

How can people help to spread NVBD program?

This is a sample text showing how we can try to inspire citizens to do their part in this program. Of course, each country must adapt this text and make it suitable so that it works in their own nation.

How You Can Help and Be Part of History – the Biggest Change in Finland Since the Civil War

Do it for the sake of your children.

1. Our first goal:

To pressure the state to establish a neutral committee to study the feasibility of the NVBD model as a new system of governance.

2. How can we pressure the state to study NVBD?

If enough people keep sending emails to decision-makers, demanding that the state investigate the NVBD model, the state will sooner or later be forced to comply and conduct the study.

Here's what you can do for a better Finland:

- Send information about NVBD to your friends, the media, members of parliament, ministers, political parties, municipal and city councils, and various organizations.
- Repeat the message often – even daily, for as long as it takes.
- You can use the same message for different recipients.
- Post about NVBD regularly on social media, and encourage others to bombard decision-makers with messages.
- Follow decision-makers' social media accounts (FB, Instagram, X) and post NVBD-related pictures and information there.
- Post the official email addresses of decision-makers on social media so that others can copy them. (Only post official addresses, not personal ones.)
- If you want, you can create FB groups, make videos, or host discussions about the NVBD model. This is a people's movement, and everyone can promote it in their own way. Finland thanks you for all your support.

Many people are under the brainwashing spell of Yle and the tabloid press and do not realize how bad Finland's situation is. Send them real information about the state of our country.

Send excerpts from the NVBD summary or share the full PDF with your friends, media, and others.

If someone asks what the NVBD model is, you can explain that it is not left-wing or right-wing, and it is not a political party. It is a patriotic governance model whose core principle is to support everything that is good for Finland, whether the proposals come from the left or the right.

Sample Message:

"Hello. You are one of the influential people in Finland (a public figure, politician, respected professional, company representative, or organization representative). I greatly appreciate your work and achievements.

I hope you can give your public support to the NVBD model so that we can pressure the government to establish a committee to study the NVBD model.

Thank you for your support for Finland. Finland and our children will thank you."

Short and concise message:

"Hello, I hope that you, as an influential person, will support the government in establishing a committee to study the NVBD model."

Patriotic regards, Sirpa Suomalainen  www.uad-malli.org

The exact content of the message is not that important – the key is that you ask for their support for establishing the committee. We are not asking for support to adopt the model itself. This is an important point, because setting up a committee doesn't sound as intimidating as launching an entirely new system of governance.

When hundreds of thousands of people express their support for the committee, it will force the government to establish one to study the NVBD model.

At the same time, we will see which individuals, groups, and parties support the formation of the committee – and which do not. We will know who is working for Finland's best interests, and who is serving other agendas.

3. Email addresses:

- Members of Parliament: etunimi.sukunimi@eduskunta.fi
- Parliament registry: kirjaamo@eduskunta.fi
- Ministers: kirjaamo@ministerionnimi.fi
- Government: kirjaamo.lvm@gov.fi

- State Treasury: etunimi.sukunimi@valtiokonttori.fi
- State Treasury: viestinta@valtiokonttori.fi

4. Tips: 💡

- Registries are perhaps the best addresses – they forward the messages onward, ensuring that decision-makers hear there are a huge number of NVBD-related messages. (Decision-makers and influential people often don't read their own messages, but the important thing is that someone informs them about this flood of messages.)
- Numbers matter – the more messages, the greater the pressure.
- Make yourself a ready email template and keep an address list, so you can send messages easily.
- Also share links and pictures from the NVBD website and ask others to do the same.
- Post NVBD-related pictures on social media, available from the NVBD website.

5. The Outcome:

When enough people – former and current politicians, parties, organizations, companies, and citizens – declare their support for studying the NVBD model, the state will have no choice: it will be forced to establish a committee.

There is no easier way to make the greatest change in Finland's system of governance since the Civil War – you can make an impact from your living room or even from a hammock at the summer cabin.

If this committee concludes that the NVBD model could function as Finland's new governance system, then we will launch a new email and social media campaign demanding that Members of Parliament vote in favor of it. More on this later.

If we fail in this, the consequences will not be good. Our homeland will remain the target of attacks by both foreign and domestic forces. Finland's fate hangs by a thread, and unfortunately, we have no other way to save Finland than the NVBD – unless you have another idea, in which case I am glad to hear it.

Thank you for your support.

Finland and future generations will thank you.
